

KLOEPFEL OUTSOURCING

Concentrate on your capabilities – we'll do the rest!

The challenge

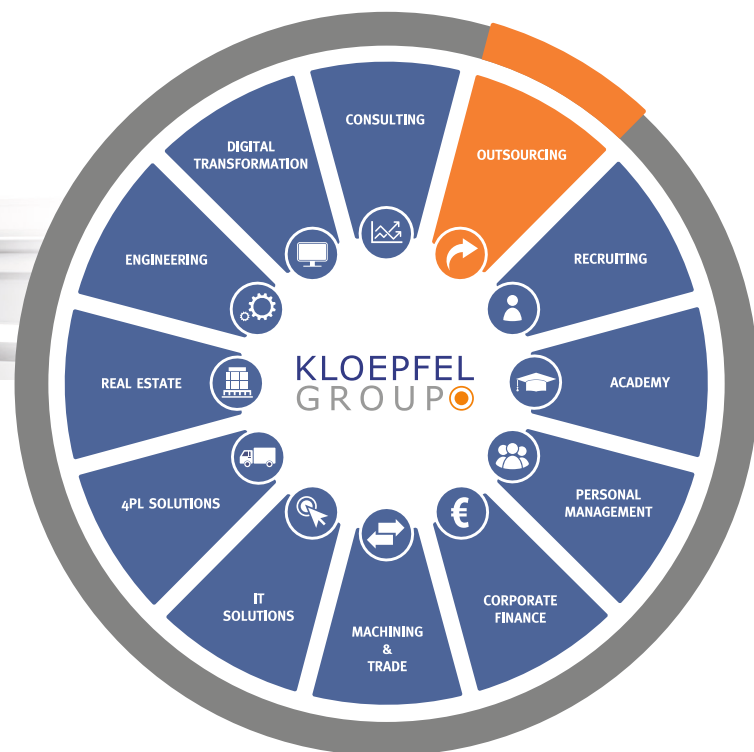

Procurement significantly contributes to a SME's profits and losses, making it a key factor for the company's success.

However, procurement divisions often don't have the time to actually implement strategic procurement tasks, as operational procurement issues often take first priority and are badly organized.

Apart from lack of time, procurement divisions frequently lack resources – they are overburdened and many employees are not up to the tasks.

Our services
